I again call attention to the present inconvanience and the danger to lite and property attending the operation of steam railroads
if though and across the public streats and roads of the District. The propriety of such legislation as will preperly guard the use of these railroads and better secure the convenience and safety of clitzons is manifest.

The consciousness that I have presented but an imporfect statement of the condition of our country and its wants occasions no fear that anything omitted is not known and appreciated by the Congress upon whom rests the responsibility of intelligent legislation in behalf of a great nation and a confiding people. As public or the one near-st the sea, built of gran-ite, and first opened to the public by William IV. Aug. 1, 1881. It was built at an outlay of £2,566,269 from designs of John Ramie and his save designs of John Rennie and his sons, John and George. In Saxon times there was a bridge at this spot, and in 1176 the first stone bridge was built here. The old London bridge had houses upon each side. At one time it was noted for its booksellerg shops, and at a later period was famous for its many pin-makers. Pennant says that the street on old London bridge was famored any lark some and Jangerous to "narrow, dirksome and dangerous to passengers from the multitude of car-riages; frequent arches of strong timriages; frequent arches of strong timbers crossing the street from the tops of the liouses, to Keep them together and from falling into the river. Nothing but use-could preserve the repose of the inmates, who soon grow deaf to the noise of the falling waters, the claimers of watermen, or the frequent shricks of drowning wretches." London bridge, in the time of Shakspeare and for years afterward, was built of wood and fined with houses on either side. In the second part of King Henry VI., Cade says: "Come, then, let's go fight with them. But first, go and set London bridge on fire; and, if you can, burn down the Tower too."

POLITICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Sam Stephenson, of Menominee, member of congress-elect, has published a letter asking folks to let up on asking for the post-offices until after March 4th.

It seems to be a foregone conclusion that James McMillan will be the next United States senator from Michigan, to succeed Hon. T. W. Palmer. Marine City Reporter.

General Alger said to a New York World reporter: "I am not secking any position in General Harrison's Cabinet or elsewhere, and I have authorized no one to present my name. All the same, he will be the next Sec retary of War.

The New York Journal of Com merce, the organ of business interests as its name implies, comes out strong ly in opposition to further free trade agitation, and asks democrats in Congress to unite with republicans and abolish all internal revenue taxes.

We hope the New York World is cor rect. It has obtained the views of many Southern democratic editors who declare they have no time for bit-terness, and that they will support General framison as president when he takes office. Tis well—let us haxe peace. - Bay City Tribune.

Ford was beaten because he was on the democratic ticket. Belknap was elected because he was on the republican ticket. When Cleveland attacked the wool industries he sounded the death-knell of his party. That is the long and short of it, and this cry of "boodle" is a clumsy attempt to obscure the facts. - Ionia Sentinel.

Loyal democrats of the G. A. R. in New York are denouncing the move ment to disrupt the organization. They declare that it is non-politica and that the seceders are confined almost entirely to Indiana. The attempt to disrupt the G. A. R. will prove a fizzle. - Detroit Tribune.

The official returns of the vote fo members of the legislature of the territory of Dakota show that the demoerats only elected one member of the lower house. This shows why the democrats so strongly opposed the admisson of Davota into the sisterbood of states. Her wrongs will soon be righted. - Cheboygan Tribune.

popular majority for president so long as so much of the popular, vote is sup pressed. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat very sensibly says: There can be no reasonable doubt that if elections were as fairly carried on all over the Routh as they are in the North, Gen. Harrison's plurality of the electoral vote would reach one hundred at least while his margin in excess of Cleve land on the popular vote would not be below five hundred thousand."

A Rio Grande track at a little station named Husted, litteen miles north of Colorado Springs, Col., by which two men were killed and several fatally injured. The Sait Lake express was thundering down the "divide" at a terrifle speed, when, on turning a curve one infle south of Husted, the engineer was borelited to see the Rock Island express dashing toward him less than three hun-dred feet away. The engineers and firemen of both trains jumped, and a moment after-ward the engines came together with a thundering erash, telescoping the cars of both trains and rendering them a mass of broken timber and iron. The upsetting of the stove in the Rio Grande baggage-car set fire to the train, and be-fore the flames could be extinguished three cars were consumed. Fortunately no one was imprisoned in them, and but two men, both belonging to the crew, were killed. W. H. Phillipps, express messenger, and J. H. Flinn, both of the Rock Island, were die. Joseph Berry, ongineer of the Rock Teland was hadly hurt, and Harry Smith, fireman on the Rio Grande, was fatally injured. Several others were injured, bu not seriously.

FIGHT WITH A NEGRO MOB.

Desperate Conflict Between Officers an Colored Men it Savannali, Gü. Colored Men #1 Savannal, Ga.
An attempt by the police to quell a dis-turbance among a crowd of disorderly negroes in Savannah, Ga., resulted in a riot in which a negro was killed, two policemen and a white man seriously injured, and several negroes wounded. Patrolman Me in upon him, but he got up, and finding his club uscless drew his revolver and began liring. Other officers heard the shooting and hastened to the place. Patrolma Cropan was knocked down and his skul oroken. McMurray was driven three or four blocks and escaped into a house, but the crowd broke through the windows and ble. The police were notified at headquarters, and a squad of mounted officers soon urrived. By this time 1,000 negroes were i the street yelling and crying ... Kill them, kil them!" The police held the crowd back, and eight of the ringleaders, were arrested. The crowd was finally dispersed. A negro with seven bullet wounds in his body was found dead in that part of the city where

AN IMPORTANT DECISION.

A Hung Jury in a Murder Trial Equivalent to a Discharge. The Supreme Court of Pennsylvania has rendered a remarkable decision relative to the trial of persons charged with murder It was decided the disagreement of the jury in murder trials is equivalent to an acquital, and that the accused person cannot be again arraigned for trial after one jury has falled to agree. The ground for the decision is the Constitution, which says that a man cannot more than once b put in jeopardy of "life and limb." The Su preme Court in its decision declares that the Constitution is clear on the point raised, and the fact makes if remarkable that the going was never raised before. Many men have been tried for murder a second time, con victed and hanged, and it would be inter constitutionally hanged in Pennsylvania The decision will have the effect of releas ing several men who are now awaiting trial after juries in their first trial had disa-greed. Hereafter it will be much more difficult to convict a man of murder Pennsylvania, since the lawyers need only work for a disagreement in order to save

THE POSTAL SERVICE. Estimate of Cost for 1890 as Submitted by the Postmaster Genera'. The Postmaster General has submitted to the Secretary of the Trensury his esti-mates for appropriations for the posts service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1890. They aggregate $66,812,073, as against $60,293, the appropriation for the present fiscal year. In the Item of mail-bags and mail-bag catchers, the estimates are $60,600 less than the appropriation for the present year, and the sum for locks and keys is $10,000 less than for the presont year. These reductions, it is said, are occusioned by the systematic repair of all defective pouches and bags and by the bringing into use of locks which have necumulated in the various postoffices throughout the country. The revenues of the department for the fiscal year ending June 30. 1890, are estimated at $62,508,688 which is an increase of $9,813,482 over the revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1888, and an increase of $4,544,324 over the estimates for the fiscal year ending June.30, 1889. This will leave an apparent deletioney for the year ending June 30, 1899, of $4,403,414. THE UBIQUITOUS TASCOTT. He I. Again Captured After Being Wound ... din the Mountains of Kentucky. #### The English Speech Spreading.

A universal language must be a growth. Some national language must spand until it covers the whole world. It late years the English language alone has been much spoken of as likely to grow so great. Hardly any philosophic linguist attempts to fore-cast the future without some discussion of the destiny of English; and De Candolle calculates that within a hun-Candolle calculates that within a hundred years English will be spoken by 860,000,000 of men, German by 124, 000,000, and French by 96,000,000. At present the populations either speaking the English language or under the domination of English-speaking people number more than 318,298, 000, or one-fourth of the nonlinting of 000, or one-fourth of the population of the globe. The English-speaking 000, or one-fourth of the population of the globe. The English-speaking races occupy one-fourth of the dry land of the earth and own nearly two-thirds of the tonnage of the ships. They live in all regions; they handle all articles of trade; they preach to all nations; they command one-half of the world's gold and silver, and distribute more than two-thirds of the Bibles and Testaments. More then helf of the letter ments. More than half of the letters mailed and carried by the postal service of the world are written; mailed and read by the English-speaking populations. The expectation that English will come into universal use is not based upon anything in the nature of the language, but rather on the character and circumstances of the neanle. The English control of the pendle. guing, but rather on the character into circumstances of the people. The En-glish people have been the great colo-nizers of modern times, They have taken possession of America, of Aus-tralia, of South Africa, the regions train, of South Airica, the regions which are to be the setts of new empires, and they control and assimilate the populations which flow into them and which grow up in them—The
